THURSDAY, SEPT. 29, 1910.

The Times Dispatch sees fit to criticize very severely Commissioner Lee's action in arranging a truce between the oyster planters and tongs in James River. It contends that Mr. Lee should have put down with a strong hand this uprising of the tongs and if necessary used the armament furnished by the state to annihilate them. It further means the injustice done all the planters by forcing them to discontinue work during this part of the season.

As a matter of fact, however, only a few planters were forced to stop work and these expressed their willingness to do so in order at Surveyor Rudiger might survey the lines and permanent settle the dispute. The Dispatch is very anxious that the rights of the planters be preserved inviolate, but the rights of the tongs may go hang, at least we understand its position. We do not excuse the action of the tongs, it sparks too much of the mob spirit, but if they could be peacefully quieted until the disputed lines were surveyed, then we think Commissioner Lee was right to adopt that plan and commend his action rather than the wholesale massacre advocated by the Dispatch. We even venture to assert that had Mr. Lee turned the Maury's guns upon these erring men and shot them down that our contemporary would have been among the first to yell murder. Furthermore if the planters have placed their stakes outside of the lines of the Baylor Survey they had broken the law and should be compelled (in the right way of course) to remove them within the proper boundaries.

We are not championing the cause of the Commission of Fisheries, they may and doubtless do make mistakes, we do think however, that the criticism of their action is in this case uncalled for and we do not think that the Dispatch really believes it to be culpable; it was simply too good an opportunity to get off a article advocating the renting of all the natural rocks and boulders lying in the river and becoming the loss to the revenues of the state because they were not leased. It is a pity though that this opportunity should be gained at the expense of Mr. Lee and his associates. No doubt The Dispatch will continue (as it has a right to do) to argue for the change in our oyster laws but there are a number of good hard headed tongs and planters and other people too, down here who do not think as it does and never will. We trust too, that it will be a long, long time before our contemporary succeeds in bringing the legislature of Va. to its way of thinking on this particular subject.

General News

The Virginia State Fair, begins in Richmond on Oct. 3rd and continues until Oct. 8th.

George W. Wise was nominated by the Republican Convention, meeting in Fredericksburg, on Sept. 27, to oppose Hon. W. A. Jones for Congress from the 1st District.

Mr. James Street, of Saluda, has been appointed by Judge Jones as clerk of Middlesex County, to succeed F. M. Easton deceased. The appointment will doubtless be a popular one.

Wedding

George Palmer

Miss Carrie Mason Palmer, sometime Missionary teacher at Shanghai, and the Rev. James Hardin George, Jr., of the diocese of Connecticut, were married in St. John's Church, Mathews, Va., by Rev. Giles B. Cooke, uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. James H. George, Sr., father of the groom, on Wednesday the 28th at 9 A. M.

The Rev. Walter C. Pugh, of Harrisburg, acted as best man. Mr. Giles B. Palmer, brother of the bride, gave her away. Mrs. B. W. Horner, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Messrs. George Lane and W. M. Minter acted as ushers. Little Katherine Cooke was flower girl. Mrs. Cooke played a wedding march from Lohengrin and sang, assisted by the Sunday School Choir, "Oh, Perfect Love."

Other relatives present were Miss Carrie Sanford, deaconess, of Philadelphia, aunt of the groom, Mr. B. W. Horner, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Mrs. Sallie Williams and son James, of Mathews County, Va.

Death

Miss Mamie Armistead

After a severe illness caused by typhoid fever, Miss Mamie Armistead, eldest daughter of Francis and Margaret Armistead, passed away on last Wednesday. Mamie was loved most by those who knew her best. She has been from her childhood an earnest and consistent member of St. Paul's Church and Sunday School and when not in place and on time, one might be sure there was some good reason for her absence. She is survived by three sisters and a sorrowing mother, who in a short span of time, has lost two sisters a husband and now a daughter. We cannot understand the workings of Providence now, but we shall know by and by. It becomes us to submit to the divine decrees, ever remembering that our days are in His hands and that "All things work together for good to them that love God."

The funeral services were conducted at the home, by her pastor, Rev. J. A. Winn and the remains interred by the side of her father in St. Paul's Cemetery. Leumas.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of Wireless or Railway Telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into position. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

Communication

Mr. Editor—

Will you allow me space in your valuable paper, to urge the school Boys and Girls to go to work at once on their exhibit for the School Fair, to be held in connection with the County fair of the Southside Agricultural Association, on their fair grounds, on the 26th, 27th and 28th of Oct. 1910. All the white Boys and Girls who attended the public schools the past session and who will attend school this coming session are eligible to take part in this school fair and compete for the prizes. Now Boys and Girls, the success of this fair is largely in your hands and it is up to you to show the Southside Agricultural Association that they have done the best thing in the history of their Association to take you in with them. They have been very generous, offering a purse of $30.00 for the boys (girls too) Corn prizes and allowing all school children and teachers to enter free, on the 26th. Well lets get back to the exhibits. Those who are raising crops of corn, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and cabbage, have, I am sure, been giving them the best of attention. I want to suggest that those written reports to accompany your exhibits need very close attention as they represent the educational part of the work. The other contests, such as making bread, butter, cook aprons, dolls bed outfit gardens tools and etc, you ought to be at work on. I hope you are. Don't forget the written report on these also. While I think it, if any one has lost their contest papers, and want others so as to have directions as to making up the written reports, if they will send me a one cent stamp, to Nesting, P. O. I will mail you copies of the contest papers. Get your exhibits delivered at the Southside Agricultural Association's fair buildings, not later than the evening of the 25 day of Oct. (day before the fair) so they can be nicely arranged and then you all (meaning every white boy and girl in Mathews County) be on hand, early Wednesday morning, prepared to stay all day. There was a plan on hand last spring for some fun for you at the fair. There will be several Educational addresses, our State Superintendent making one of them. The following prizes have been provided, 30.00 for corn, 20.00 for Irish potatoes, 20.00 for sweet potatoes, 10.00 for cabbage, 20.00 for bread 10.00, for hand made cook apron, 5.00 for best pound of butter, 5.00 for cup cake, 5.00 for set of garden tools, 5.00 for dolls bed outfit. A single horse wagon furnished by the Thornhill Wagon Co., will be given to the best corn raised by the Middlesex and Mathews Boys. The Middlesex prize corn will be brought to the Mathews fair.

In behalf of the boys and girls I want to say that if any one desires to increase any of these prizes, we shall be glad to hear from them. Report to any of the school trustees or the Fair directors the amounts. The Mathews boys and girls deserve anything that can be done for their good and encouragement. E. C. Percifull, Div. Supt.

A Bad Accident

Captain Ike Ward, of Bohannon was seriously injured by a flying plank while watching a saw mill in Robins Neck, Gloucester County, on last Thursday. The end of the plank struck him in the breast with great force and inflicted a very dangerous wound. An operation was performed by Dr. C. C.
